

MORE SOLUTIONS = MORE PROBLEMS

A book trailer storyboard · 2 minutes · stick-figure animation aesthetic

Directed by Ahmed Hafdi · Kenitra, Morocco

VIGNETTE 1 — THE COBRA (0:00 – 0:55)

Frames 1–8 · Delhi, 1880s · the British bounty on cobras · the cascade revealed

VIGNETTE 2 — THE MEDICINE (1:05 – 1:45)

Frames 9–13 · Detroit, 1995 · the OxyContin approval · the same arithmetic

REVEAL (1:45 – 2:00)

Frames 14–15 · the book · the call to action

Delhi. 1880s.

The British have a problem.

FRAME 1 · 0:00–0:05

Cold open · title card

CAMERA / NOTES

Static · type only. No music. Faint city ambient + a single distant cobra hiss.

FRAME 2 · 0:05-0:18

Establishing wide · the room

CAMERA / NOTES

Static · locked-off · wide. Composition: 80% room, 20% figure — the negative space carries the loneliness. Light from above-front.

CAMERA / NOTES

VOICE-OVER

AHMED HAFDI · STORYBOARD · MORE SOLUTIONS = MORE PROBLEMS

FRAME 4 · 0:25-0:30

Insert · the bounty

CAMERA / NOTES

Top-down macro. Coin sharp, hand soft, wood grain sharp. The transaction is the subject.

cobra shadow on wall — 1 sec pass

FRAME 5 · 0:30–0:45

The shadow

CAMERA / NOTES

Same locked-off wide as Frame 2 — but a cobra shadow passes the wall behind him. He does not react. Sound: hiss + scrape of scales.

VOICE-OVER

"Then someone notices something. It's easier to breed cobras than to hunt them."

FRAME 6 · 0:45–0:50

Cages (implied)

CAMERA / NOTES

Low angle, slow push-in over 1–2 inches. Cage felt more than seen — distant window of light, foreground bars, a coiled snake hint.

FRAME 7 · 0:50–0:55

Close-up · the punchline

CAMERA / NOTES

Tight close-up · eye-level · the eyes carry the shot · everything else loses focus.

VOICE-OVER

"This was 1880. Read the next page in any history book and you'll find the same story under different names."

Detroit. 1995.

FRAME 8 · 0:55–1:05

Transition · music in

CAMERA / NOTES

Black for three full seconds. First music cue here — a single sustained low synth note. The pacing changes.

FRAME 9 · 1:05–1:15

Same wide · transformed

CAMERA / NOTES

IDENTICAL framing to Frame 2 — but white doctor's coat on the figure, pill bottle on the table beside him, lighting slightly cooler.

FRAME 10 · 1:15–1:20

Insert · the prescription

CAMERA / NOTES

Top-down macro at the same scale as Frame 4. Visual rhyme: coin → pill bottle. The transaction has changed shape.

FRAME 11 · 1:20–1:35

Slow dolly · 8 seconds

CAMERA / NOTES

Camera dollies forward by about 12 inches over 8 seconds. The figure does not move — the room comes to him. Faint hospital monitor in the sound design.

FRAME 12 · 1:35–1:40

Insert · the signature

CAMERA / NOTES

Top-down macro. Echoes Frame 4 and Frame 10. Three transactions, same arithmetic. Soft pen-scratch on paper.

FRAME 13 · 1:40–1:45

"It's mathematics."

CAMERA / NOTES

Identical framing to Frame 7 — the strongest visual rhyme in the film. Black shirt becomes white. 1880 becomes 1995. Same person.

VOICE-OVER

"Two centuries between Delhi and Detroit. The architecture of the catastrophe is identical. This isn't bad luck. It's mathematics."

FRAME 14 · 1:45–1:55

The book in his hands

CAMERA / NOTES

Static · eye-level · slow push-in over 3 seconds. Soft natural window light. Wardrobe is neutral — neither black nor white. The transformation is complete.

FRAME 15 · 1:55–2:00

End card

CAMERA / NOTES

Static black with title type. Hold four seconds. Music resolves to silence on the last second.
The trailer ends where it began.

SHOOT SUMMARY · ONE EVENING, THREE HOURS

SETUP (30 min)

Black sheet stretched on a wall. One LED panel from camera-left (or one window). Tripod with phone clamp. Lavalier mic plugged into phone.

BLOCK A — WIDE SHOTS (40 min)

Frames 2, 5, 9. Same locked camera position. Two wardrobe changes between takes (black → black + sheet/snake prop → white).

BLOCK B — MEDIUM / CLOSE-UPS (45 min)

Frames 3, 7, 13. Same chair, same lens, two wardrobe changes. Shoot all three back-to-back so the lighting consistency holds.

BLOCK C — TOP-DOWN INSERTS (30 min)

Frames 4, 10, 12. Same table-top setup. Coin, pill bottle, prescription pad — single 30-minute block.

BLOCK D — BOOK REVEAL (15 min)

Frame 14. Stand against neutral wall, hold book, slow camera push-in.

GENERATED IN EDITING

Frames 1, 6, 8, 15. Title cards + the cage shot (lit prop in a dark corner) + the end card.

TOTAL

About 3 hours of shooting + 2 evenings in CapCut for the edit.

THE FOUR VISUAL RHYMES

Frame 1 ↔ Frame 8 ↔ Frame 15	black title cards · the only moments of stillness
Frame 2 ↔ Frame 9	identical wide composition · different century
Frame 4 ↔ Frame 10 ↔ Frame 12	coin · pill · signature · three top-down transactions
Frame 7 ↔ Frame 13	identical close-up · black shirt → white shirt
